

Neptune Theatre seeking national anthem singers for upcoming shows, Playing with Fire, Oct. 16 – Nov. 4

September 18, 2018 (Halifax, NS) – We all know the words to “O Canada”. You may have even sung along at hockey games. Now is your chance to sing the anthem on stage: Neptune Theatre is launching auditions for national anthem singers to be a part of its upcoming production, Playing with Fire: The Theo Fleury Story. From Oct. 16 to Nov. 4, the theatre will invite a different person to each performance to sing the anthem.

This opportunity is open to ANYONE: The general public, politicians, members of the media, professional actors and singers, groups, moms, dads, kids, professional athletes, etc!

Audition details:

Wednesday, Sept. 26 at 11:00 a.m.
Neptune Theatre Scotiabank Stage, 1593 Argyle Street

Auditionees can book their audition time by e-mailing auditions@neptunetheatre.com with a cover note, photo, and performance resume if available.

Please be prepared to sing “O Canada”!
All members of the media are welcome to attend for photo, video and interview opportunities.

About Playing with Fire:

You don't need to know anything about hockey to love the exhilarating, heart-breaking, and triumphant true story of courageous Canadian hockey legend, Theoren Fleury. With the odds stacked against him, the pint-sized Metis kid with huge ambitions from Russell, Manitoba, overcame crushing obstacles to become an NHL All-Star, win the Stanley Cup, and represent Canada twice at the Olympic Games where he earned a Gold medal. A top-scoring theatrical tour-de-force performed entirely on ice!

Neptune Theatre kicked off its 56th season with the summer production The Argyle Street Kitchen Party. The remainder of the new season has been announced and subscriptions and single tickets are available for purchase. Located at 1593 Argyle Street, Neptune boasts two newly renovated stages: Fountain Hall and the Scotiabank Stage, plus a year-round Theatre School.
